

TERESA BOSCO

HUMAN RESOURCES
INTERN

What do Saint Vincent College, volleyball, and Chick-fil-A have in common? Teresa Bosco!

Teresa is the summer intern in our Human Resources department and in her spare time, she enjoys playing volleyball and hanging out with friends. She attends Saint Vincent College where she studies Business Management and Operations Excellence and finds Latrobe just as welcoming as her hometown of Cranberry Township.

Teresa chose to intern with us because of the proximity and because she wants to get hands-on experience working in Human Resources. And, after work, she's not done! She heads to Chick-fil-A where she also works. We think she is becoming quick friends with her cubical neighbors - the IT department who often Eat Mor Chikin!

BEN SULLIVAN

ADMINISTRATION

INTERN

Need someone to teach you how to safely ski, kayak, or hike?

Ben Sullivan's your guy.

Raised in Pleasant Hills, Ben is our Administration Department intern and studies Safety Management at Slippery Rock University. He is going into his junior year and expects to graduate in the spring of 2023. Ben applied to this internship program because it seemed close to home and a very welcoming place.

This summer, he hopes to gain hands-on experience and find a possible career path. This will be his first internship, and he can't wait to learn as much as possible.

HANNAH GENOVESE

PLANNING & DEV.

INTERN

Did you ever think that Pitt and Penn State could get along?

By some miracle, Hannah Genovese made it happen. Hannah, our Planning and Development Services intern, is pursuing a Masters' degree in Urban Affairs and Planning from the University of Pittsburgh. She graduated from Penn State in 2015 with a degree in political science, and after college, she learned about different careers and decided to apply her knowledge toward working in Public Administration. Hannah, originally from Johnstown, plans on graduating from Pitt in the spring of 2023.

A resident for the past few years, she knew that Cranberry was the place to go to learn everything she can about development. In her free time, she likes to sew, knit, bike, do yoga, and hang out with friends.

TRENT SMITH

FIRE & EMERGENCY

INTERN

Looking for a guy who can make really good pasta sauce and who's ready to combat a kitchen fire at any moment?

Meet Trent Smith, one of the interns working for the Volunteer Fire Company this summer. He grew up in the New Brighton area and is now entering his junior year at Geneva College. Trent is studying Criminal Justice and hopes to one day have a career in Fire Investigation.

He chose to work for Cranberry because of its reputation and hopes to learn as much as he can working with the Township and its different departments and affiliations. In his free time, Trent likes to make videos about firefighting and spend time outside.

INTERN

AIDAN UPTON

Know anyone who can't do a backflip?

Well, add another to that list because Aiden Upton can't either, but he wanted everyone to know that he's really close to getting himself off of that list.

Originally from Orange County, California, Aiden moved to Marshal Township when he was thirteen and currently attends the University of Pittsburgh, where he plans to get a degree in Architecture. Aiden interned for the Township last summer and is excited to gain more experience working in the Fire Department and in local government.

If he's not at the Fire Station, you can find Aiden at a bowling alley or playing basketball with fellow intern Nate.

INTERN

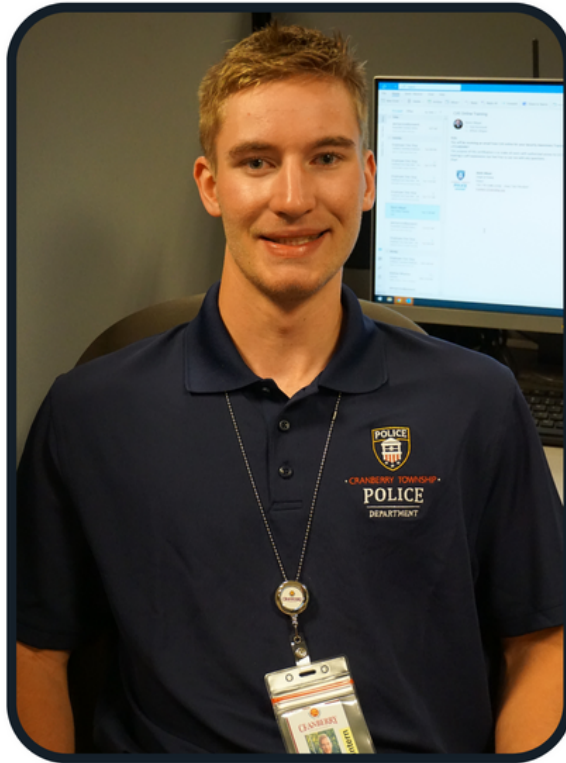

NATE HEZLEP

Nate Hezlep is no stranger to Cranberry Township.

He grew up in the neighborhood and got to see the inner workings of the Township Operation from his father, Supervisor Bruce Hezlep, who inspired his son to go into Fire Service.

This summer, Nate returns to the CTVFC as a second-year intern and hopes to gain even more experience in order to one day become a career firefighter. He is entering his senior year at Palm Beach State in Florida and will graduate with a degree in Fire Science Technology in December.

In his free time, Nate likes to play sports and is working to develop a new and improved website for his online video game store.

KYLE KACZMAREK

POLICE

INTERN

It's safe to say that law enforcement stole intern Kyle Kaczmarek's heart.

Raised in Wexford, Kyle always knew he wanted to be a police officer just like his grandfather. He was inspired to attend Slippery Rock University where he studies Homeland Security, Organizational Security, and Leadership and is expected to graduate in the spring of 2023. Kyle is no stranger to our police department, either (in a good way!) – he worked with Cranberry Township PD when he was in high school and fell in love with the profession. He is looking forward to gaining experience in handling real-world situations and applying all that he's learned to his studies.

In his free time, he enjoys fishing with his grandfather and his dad.

JAKE HABETS

PUBLIC WORKS

INTERN

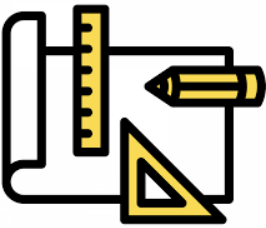

Jake Habets is the summer intern for our Public Works and loves working with geographical technology.

Growing up in Bethel Park, he decided to go to Slippery Rock University to study geographic information technology. He expects to graduate in the spring of 2023 with a bachelor's degree and hopes of becoming a GIS (Geographic Information System) analyst. Jake chose to come to Cranberry because of the opportunities it gives for local governmental experience and because it is close to home.

Hoping to gain more hands-on work, get outside experience, and broaden his GIS knowledge, Jake is ready to learn and take on new projects with Public Works throughout the summer. In his free time, Jake likes all sorts of outside and physical activities, including, camping, hiking, hunting, and even riding his motorcycle.

ENGINEERING & ENV.

INTERN

ETHAN SHODI

Ethan Shodi is ready to amp things up this summer in Engineering and Environmental Services.

Ethan joins our internship program as an Industrial Engineering major, set to graduate from the University of Pittsburgh in the spring of 2025. He applied to work for the Township because he grew up in the area and wanted to gain experience in the field, meet new people, and learn more about civil engineering.

In his free time, Ethan enjoys playing ice hockey and working on cars – a hobby very much suited for an aspiring engineer.

ANDREW WHARTON

COMMUNICATIONS

INTERN

Return of the Wharton? Nope, not that one.

Though they look alike, Andrew Wharton is not stepping into the shadow of his older brother. He is making his mark as the Communications Department's summer intern. Andrew, who just graduated from the Indiana University of Pennsylvania at the beginning of this month, decided to apply for the internship because of the Township's stellar reputation and its endless supply of events to cover. In his free time, Andrew can be found playing his guitar, watching Marvel movies, or running the big screen at Wild Things Park.

He looks forward to using the skills he learned as a Communications and Media Production student to assist the department in producing and editing videos, covering events, and creating social media content.
